

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

the following, thinking it may prove interesting to many, especially as the pamphlet is now very scarce :—

“He made this Will some years since, but never altered his Mind to the last, nor made any other ; for soon after by a violent cold, which 'tis suppos'd he took by his long studying in a cold damp Room, the use of his limbs was taken away, so that he was Bed-ridden to the Day of his Death, which was not till last March, 1716, upwards of Five years. In which time a remarkable Providence happen'd. The House he liv'd in being very old and crazy, the Head of his Bed stood against a Wall, which fell down into the Garden, and drew the Bed, and him in it, half way out of the Breach, and had gone quite out, had there not been a strong Rope fastened from the Bed to a Beam in the Room, being one story high, had in all likelihood kill'd him being in so weak a condition. His Life and Death was very pious and exemplary. It was great Pity so good and useful a Man should be sent to such a poor remote Place, in a very dirty Country at the Foot of the South Downs in Sussex near Shoreham, so that he was as it were bury'd alive, a great part of the Year the People cannot stir abroad. The Living was but a very bare subsistence, in so much that he was obliged to sell his Books to a Bookseller for less than Ten pounds, &c.”

“Very pious and exemplary,” says this writer, was the life and death of George Keith, and no doubt to the writer's mind it was so : others may think differently of G. K.'s life, and there is reason to doubt whether he ended his days in peace, as will appear from the following account :—

“The Bishop (Burnet) has told us, after a long detail of his performances, That he is now, in the year 1700, in holy orders among us, and likely to do good service in undeceiving and reclaiming some of those misled enthusiasts. But what if it should appear after all that he deeply repented of what he had done ? I shall relate what has come to my knowledge, and leave the reader to judge of the truth of it. The fact as related is this : That one Richard Hayler of Sussex made a visit to George Keith on his death-bed, which visit was kindly taken by him ; and among other things that passed, G. Keith expressed himself in these words, viz.,—I wish I had died when I was a Quaker, for then I am sure it would have been well with my soul. This I have from a person now living, of unquestioned reputation, who had it from the widow of the said Richard Hayler, and her sister, both since deceased, but persons of unblemished characters. I hope, therefore, I may be excused in this one instance, at a time when George Keith's performances against the Quakers are so much magnified by the Bishop of L——'s defender, as well as Dr. Burnet, in letting the world know, that there is reason to believe, that this conduct of George Keith at last became his burthen, and that he himself did not approve of it : the consideration of it, I confess, gives me some secret pleasure, in hopes, that he that gave him sight, might give him also the grace of repentance.”—See ALEXANDER ARSCOTT'S “Considerations on the Present State of the Christian Religion,” page 288, 3rd edition, 1779.

- Mr. George Keith's REASONS for Renouncing Quakerism, and entering into Communion with the Church of England. With other Remarkable Occurrences that will be acceptable to all Orthodox Christians, of every Persuasion.

London: Printed and are to be sold by the Booksellers of London and Westminster. ... 8vo. 1700. 2½

Note.—Geo. Keith in his "Plain Discovery," &c., page 5, says, "he was not the writer nor composer of this book nor does he know who or what he was."

- Mr. George Keith's Account of a National Church, and the CLERGY, &c. Humbly Presented to the BISHOP of LONDON: with some Queries concerning the Sacrament.

London: Printed and sold by the Booksellers of London and Westminster. ... 4to. 1700. 1

Note.—George Keith says this was not published by him, see The Advertisement on the last leaf of "A Sermon preach'd at St. Helen's London," where he calls it "a Quaker Cheat." So far as not being the writer or publisher he is correct, as will appear from the following extract from Sewel's History, "George Keith, by vilifying the Doctrine of the Quakers, was now so much in favour with the Episcopal Clergy, that he began to serve them as a Vicar, having been ordained by the Bishop of London about the year 1700. And since this seemed strange and wonderful to many, somebody, of what Persuasion I do not know, made a Collection of his Sentiments concerning a National Church, and its Clergy, and what Account he gave of their Rites and Ceremonies, from Books and Papers he had published many years before; to which the Author gave this Title, Mr. George Keith's Account of a National Church and Clergy, humbly presented to the Bishop of London: To this were added some Queries he once writ concerning what is called The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. This Account was now published in Print, and presented to the Bishop of London, ending with these words of the Apostle, If I build again the Things which I destroyed, I make myself a Transgressor."

KELSALL, John,—An Alarm. Query, whether printed?

||KELSEY, John,—In the "Life of Sir Dudley North, by Roger North," p. 115, 4to. 1744, is a relation of The Adventures of John the Quaker, and of his Pilgrimage to Constantinople for converting the Great Turk. This is said to be JOHN KELSEY. There are Portraits of such an individual, but who or what he was I am unable to learn; my opinion is that the account is fabulous.

"Feb. 3, in London, at an advanced age, Mrs. Knowles, one of the Society of Quakers, widow of Dr. Knowles, a Physician, whom she survived several years. This lady possessed a variety of talents. She was not only known as a painter, but also for her portraits in needlework, which were much admired, particularly one of the present King. Her talents for conversation have been recorded by Mr. Boswell, in his Life of Dr. Johnson, where she appears to great advantage. Mrs. K. is said to have died very rich, and during the latter years of life to have felt rather too much of that propensity which riches so frequently encourage."—From The Monthly Repository of Theology, &c., Vol. 2, for the year 1807, page 160.

LAWSON, Thomas, born 10th mo. 10, 1630, was a younger son of Sir Thomas and Ruth Lawson. He was educated at Cambridge, and early obtained the living of Ramside in Lancashire. In the year 1652, he is thus noticed in Geo. Fox's journal, folio edition of 1694, page 78 :—"From Ulverston I passed to "Ramside, where was a Chappel in which one Thomas Lawson "used to preach, who was a high sort of a Priest, and he very "lovingly spake to his People in the Morning, of my coming in "the Afternoon; by which means very many People were "gathered together. When I came, I saw there was no place "so convenient to declare to the People there as the Chappel; "and therefore I went into the Chappel and all was quiet: "and the Priest Thomas Lawson went not up into his Pulpit, "but left all the Time to me. And the Everlasting Day of "the Eternal God was proclaimed that Day, and the Everlasting Truth was largely declared, which reached and "entered into the Hearts of People, and many received "the Truth in the Love of it. And this Priest came to be "convinced and left his Chappel; and threw off his Preaching "for Hire, and came to preach the Lord Jesus and his Kingdom freely. After that, some Rude People cast Scandals upon "him, and thought to have done him a Mischief; but he was "carried over all, and grew in the Wisdom of God mightily, "and proved very serviceable in his place." He afterwards removed to Great Strickland and opened a School, for which he was well qualified, having a good knowledge of Hebrew, Greek and Latin, and many of the Sons of the Gentry residing in the neighbourhood, were intrusted to his care. Gerard Croese in his History of the Quakers mentions him at page 59 "as being one of the most noted Botanists in England, and Sewel in his History, at page 57, says, "I have been "told he was one of the most skilful Botanists in England; "which gave occasion to an eminent Botanist (John Ray) "who at first seemed a little shy of him, when he perceived "his great skill, to love him as a singular Friend." He was employed by Margaret Fell to instruct her daughters in Botany. He died at Great Strickland the 12th of the 11th mo. 1691, aged 61, and was buried at Newby Head in a burying-ground given to Friends by a Gentleman who had been a Scholar of T. Lawson's. This gentleman erected a Tomb to his memory with a Latin Inscription which is now to be seen there, and is as follows:—

“Sub hoc Tumulo jacet Corpus Thomæ Lawson, de Magnæ, Stricklandiæ Ludimagister et Botanicus non imperitus qui obiit 12 Die Novembr: (9th month) Anno Domini, 1691, Anno Ætatis suæ 61.

“Hic etiam jacet Corpus Franciscæ Lawson, uxoris ejus quæ mortem obiit 3 Die Feb: (12th month) Anno Domini, 1690. Anno Ætatis 55.

- *LAY, Benjamin, of Colchester, in Essex, was born there in the year 1677, of parents who were members of our Society. In the year 1717 he was disunited from Friends, probably from giving too great latitude to the natural ardour of his mind respecting the contests of the times, as his moral character stands unimpeached. The following year, 1718, he left England, and took up his residence in Barbadoes; after residing there 13 years he removed to Philadelphia in 1731; he afterwards left that city, and in the latter part of his life, he and his wife boarded with the family of John Phipps, near Abington Meeting-house.

¶ LILBURNE, Elizabeth, wife of JOHN LILBURNE.

— To the Chosen and betrusted Knights, Citizens, and Burgesses, assembled in the High and Supreme Court of Parliament. The humble Petition of Elizabeth Lilburne, wife to Lieut. Coll. John Lilburne, who hath been for above eleven weeks by past, most unjustly divorced from him, by the House of Lords, and their Tyrannicall officers, against the Law of God and (as she conceives) the Law of the Land. Broadside. [1646.] 1

LILBURNE, John, was the son of RICHARD LILBURNE, and was born at Thickny-Puncharden, in Darlington Ward, County of Durham, in the year 1618; and at the age of 12 years was bound apprentice to a woollen-draper in London, where he studied the writings of the Puritans. In 1636 he became assistant to Dr. Bastwick, and was employed by him in circulating his pamphlets, for which Lilburne was whipped, pilloried, and imprisoned. In his confinement he wrote several tracts against the Church but in 1640 he regained his liberty, and was rewarded by Parliament with a grant of £2,000 out of the estates of the Royalists. He then entered the army as a captain, under the Earl of Essex, and was at the Battle of Marston Moor, near York; after which he was advanced to the station of lieutenant-colonel, under the Earl of Manchester; but publishing a libel against the Earl, he was committed first to Newgate and afterwards to the Tower. In 1648 he was released and remunerated; but he still continued writing libels, particularly against Parliament; and in the year 1651 he was heavily fined in the sum of £7,000, and banished; but before the act of banishment could pass he withdrew privately to Holland, where he joined the Royalists, and proposed to restore the king for £10,000, which offer was treated with contempt. He afterwards returned to England without leave, in consequence of which he was again arrested and imprisoned. Dover Castle was the place of his confinement; and during his residence there in 1655 he was visited by Luke Howard, a minister of our Society in that town, and through his means he was convinced of the principles of Friends; and in the year 1656 he published his "Resurrection." His writings are very numerous. The following is a list of some of them (including a few by others pro and con relating to him), and those marked thus (*) are in the Society's Library at Devonshire House Meeting-house, London. For an account of his death and burial, see the end of this list.

— The Christian Man's TRIALL: or, A Trve Relation of the first apprehension and severall examinations of JOHN LILBURNE, With his Censure in Star-Chamber, and the manner of his cruell whipping through the Streets: whereunto is annexed his Speech in the Pillory, and their gagging of him : Also the severe Order of the Lords made the same day for fettering his hands and feet in yrons, and for keeping his friends and monies from him, which was accordingly executed upon him for a long time together by the Wardens of the Fleet, with a great deale of barbarous cruelty and inhumanity, &c.

Reprinted.—The 2nd edition, with an addition [“ A Work of the Beast.”]

London, Printed for William Larnar, and are to be sold at his shop at the signe of the Golden Anchor, neere Pauls Chaine. ... 4to. 1641. 5½

Note.—There is a fine portrait of Lilburne to this book, at the age of 23, Anno 1641, with the following verse underneath :—

*“ Gaze not upon this shadow that is vaine,
But rather raise thy thoughts a higher straine,
To God (I mean) who set this young-man free,
And in like straits can eke deliver thee.”*

John Lilburne after his release from Dover Castle settled at Eltham, in Kent, where it is said he passed the remainder of his days in undisturbed tranquillity. At this place he died in the year 1657. His body was brought to London, and "was buried from the Bull and Mouth Meeting-place by Aldersgate, with a numerous company of that Party Quakers) attending him to his Grave."* In another work,† the following record of his death and burial is found:—"1657. August (6th month) 28.—John Lilburn, a busie man, died at Eltham, and buried in the new Church yard, by Bedlam y^e 31, accompanied with his fellow Quakers." The grave yard here referred to was situated till recently in Liverpool Street, Bishopsgate, formerly called Spinning-Wheel Alley, and which is now the terminus of the North London Railway. The noted Lodowick Muggleton was also buried in this ground.

It will be seen, therefore, that the accounts given by John Whiting, Wm. Sewel, Henry Tuke, and some others are incorrect.

- AN INSTRUMENT from that little stone cut out of the Mountain without hands, to help to break in pieces, that Great Image which Daniel mentions, Ch. 2, whose Feet was part Iron and part Clay, or, a few Queries to satisfy the chief Preacher in the Independent Church in Bedford, who desired the Author to write unto him, what Proofs he had for a Woman's speaking in the Church. He being concerned that so many of his Hearers should leave him to go to hear Margaret Everard declare what God had done for her soul, the 17th day of June last, at my dwelling in Bedford. Published for the information of all Professors in Religion, &c. By WILLIAM MATHER, a true Lover of every Soul.

London, Printed for Sarah Howkins in George-yard in Lombard-Street. 4to. 1694. 1½

- A NOVELTY: or, a Government of WOMEN, distinct from MEN, erected amongst some of the People, call'd QUAKERS.

Detected in an Epistle, occasionally written to a Man-Judge, upon a Young Man's refusing (for good conscience sake) to submit to their authority in Marriage, seeing that Relations and Friends were already satisfied. To which is added, a Lamentation for the Fall of so many of that People. Published for no other end, but to deter all honest Hearts of the said People, from erecting the like Unscriptural Government. Tho' this may not so far prevail with such Women as has a secret command of their Husband's Purses; together with those Preachers that reap Profit by such a Female Government, as to consent to the Disannulling the same. Written by William Mather, a dear Lover of the said People, who has for several years been much troubled, that some of them should fall from their Primitive Institution, as to set up Women's and Men's Meetings, as Guides in Government, seeing God has placed the civil Magistrate, over us, Rom. 13.

MIRROR OF POLICY.

No honest Married Wife is to deal in the Affairs of the Common wealth, much less to meddle with the making of Marriages, unless for her own children and servants, wherein she must also refer herself to the discretion of her Husband, lest she incur the name of a Harebrain.

Cease ye from Man, whose Breath is in his Nostrils, for wherein is he to be accounted of, Isa. 2, 22.

London: Printed for Sarah Howkins, in George-yard,
Lumbard-street. 4to. [1694?]

Note.—Quoted in his "Young Man's Companion, 4th edition, 1695.

— A Brief Character of the Antient Christian Quakers. Written by W. M. a Witness for the Truth, as it was in the beginning. London, Printed for S. Clarke, in George-yard, in Lombard Street. Small 8vo. 1695.

Note.—This pamphlet has only the initials W. M., but no doubt exists in my mind as to the authorship. WILLIAM MATHER, about this time, was beginning to be dissatisfied with some things, imbibing a bitter spirit, falling out with his brethren, and as will be seen ultimately went off altogether. Morris Birkbeck has written on the back of the title page of a copy, the following, but my belief is that he is quite wrong in attributing it to WILLIAM MEAD, though what he says concerning him is no doubt correct:—"Supposed to be William Mead's,—who lost his love to Friends, and the chief promoters of good, in the Society. It is to be noted, that though an extract is made to serve the turn from John Crook, William Penn is barely mentioned, and George Fox not at all, but large extracts or quotations from Backsliders. I am credibly informed that it was at his instance or through his means, that divers of the Journals of George Fox were bound up and issued without William Penn's Preface."

- An ANSWER to the Switch for the Snake. A Book so called. Discovering the Weakness of the Switch, which the leading Quakers (of the Second Days Meeting in LONDON for Government,) have lately (as I am told,) given into the Hands of each Parliament Man.
Vice is Nourished and gets Life by Covering it, saith a Heathen Author; even so it is with Errors in Religion.
Humbly shewing, that it is Impossible, that the Pens now in Controversie, against us Quakers, should be put a stop to, before there's an Order given forth, (from the Second Days Meeting) for the Reformation of our Numerous Preachers in the Country.
And also a Book of Retractions of all the Errors in our Friends Printed Books, be published, with an Appendix and Postscript. By William Mather, a lover of (the well-meaning persons, especially among) that People. Prov. xxvii. 6.—Faithful are the Wounds of a Friend: But the Kisses of an Enemy are deceitful, (dated, Bedford, Nov. 25, 1699.) - Our antient Testimony renewed, concerning our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, the Holy Scriptures, and the Resurrection, occasioned at this time by several unjust charges published against us, and our truly Christian Profession, by G. Keith, who hath unfairly and untruly Misrepresented us.

London, Printed and sold by T. Sowle, in White-Hart-Court, in Gracious-street. ... 8vo. 1695.

Reprinted at the end of Gerard Croese's History (in English).
8vo. 1696.

"In the latter part of the year 1717, died Dr. Griffith Owen, of Philadelphia. He came to Pennsylvania among the early settlers; and was said to be of great and eminent service among them in divers capacities. As a Preacher among the Quakers he was highly esteemed, being an active, exemplary, and very useful member of that religious Society. In the civil department his merit and abilities raised him to several public stations; wherein he acted with judgment and integrity, being long one of the Governor's Council, &c. But his practice as a Physician, in which he was very knowing and eminent, rendered him of still greater value and importance, in the place where he lived. With these qualities he is said to have preserved the sincerity and meekness of a true Christian, and died much beloved by a large acquaintance of people of different ranks and Societies."—Proud's "History of Pennsylvania," Vol. 2, page 99, note.

- A TRIAL of FAITH, Wherein is discovered the ground of the Faith of the Hypocrite, which perisheth, and the Faith of the Saints, which is founded upon the everlasting Rock, so all may see what their Faith is, and what they trust to.—Written to the intent that every one may come to the true Searcher of Faith, that their Faith which they speak of and trust to, may be searched, and the heart of the Pharisee ript open and searched, and that the poor ignorant blind creatures may come to see and be deceived no longer in trusting to that which perisheth. Verily it is of much concernment to every one, even the soul; the tryal of your faith; written from the Spirit of the Lord, and published for the good of all, that they may come to build upon the everlasting Rock, with him whose name according to the World is, James Parnell.

Trye yourselves, prove yourselves, know you not that Christ is in you unless you be Reprobates.—2 Cor. xiii. 5.

- Both parts reprinted, with other pieces, by the same authors, entitled,—The Christian Quaker, and his Divine Testimony stated and vindicated, by William Penn & George Whitehead. To which are prefixed the following Treatises, by the same writers, viz. The Light and Life of Christ within; The Sandy Foundation Shaken; and Innocency with her open Face.

Philadelphia: Printed and sold by Joseph Rakestraw, No. 256, North Third Street. ... 8vo. 1824.

The following Advertisement is prefixed to this edition, viz. :—

“The Works of William Penn were collected and published in the year 1726, a few years after the decease of the Author, in two large Folio volumes. Some time after, a selection was made and published in one very large volume, folio; and in the year 1782 his Select Works were reprinted in London, in five volumes, 8vo. These being out of print, the Meeting for Sufferings in London, in the 4th Month, 1825, encouraged a new edition. But so large a selection being too costly for general circulation, it has been thought that a benefit would arise from the publication in a separate form, of the three following excellent treatises :—his “Sandy Foundation Shaken,” “Innocency with her open Face,” and “The Christian

Quaker, and his Divine Testimony stated and vindicated." They have always been printed with what are called his Select Works, and classed among his most approved writings. And as the 2nd Part of "The Christian Quaker, written by George Whitehead, and originally published in connexion with the 1st Part by William Penn, had become extremely scarce, it was thought that its republication would be both interesting and useful. A little tract by the same writer, entitled, "The Light and Life of Christ within," has also been inserted. The Collection it is believed, will be found to contain much valuable information on most of the Cardinal Doctrines of Friends. The different treatises follow, in the volume, in the order of time in which they were written.

The following "Postscript" is added to some copies of "The Christian Quaker," 8vo. 1699 :—

"I would not be misunderstood in what I have writ of the Eccellency and Preference of the Holy Spirit of God, as the First, Chief and General Rule of Life and Practice, and as the Infallible, and therefore the Best Judge of Controversies among Christians; as if I thereby intended to Lessen or undervalue the Divine Authority, or Service, of the Blessed Scriptures of Truth, since we most heartily believe them to have been given forth from the same Holy Spirit, and are a Declaration of the Mind and Will of God; and, as such, are obliging upon all that have, and can have them, both in reference to Faith and Practice: and we utterly disclaim and renounce all Doctrines and Practices Repugnant to them.

But as the Holy Spirit gave them forth through Holy Men, so without the help of the Holy Spirit, they cannot be truly and spiritually understood, by those that read them, for their Edification and Comfort; for that which writ them can best apply them: which is the reason of that Preference we give to the Spirit of God, and of our pressing People to take diligent heed to the Manifestation of it, that they may Read, Pray, Praise, Preach and Live in the Spirit, to God's Glory and their Eternal Comfort. W. P."

Note.—In some copies there is added in the Title, "Against the injurious attempts that have been lately made by several Adversaries, with manifest design to render Him odiously inconsistent with Christian and civil Society. First printed in the Year MDCLXXIII."

- A DISCOURSE of the General Rule of Faith and Life, and Judge of Controversie. Greatly importing all those who desire to take Right Measures of Faith; and to determine (at least to themselves) the numerous Controversies now on foot in the World. [In "The Christian Quaker." Folio. 1674.]

Note.—Prefixed to this Selection is an Advertisement written (I believe) by Dr. JOHN FOTHERGILL, but which is omitted in subsequent editions, and from which I make the following extract:—"The Works of this eminent Person having long been out of Print, and much inquired after, it became necessary to consider of another Impression. Many excellent Treatises of general and lasting Use; many Essays of great Importance to the Cause of Piety and Virtue, as well as to Civil and Religious Liberty; Vindication of the Principles of the Christian Society of which he was an honourable Member, against the Attacks of ignorant and designing Men; together with an Account of his Life and Labours in the Service of Religion; form the principal part of our Author's Works at large, first collected and published in Two Volumes Folio, anno 1726. That Edition being now dispersed, it was judged expedient, previously to another Impression, to review the Whole, and to select for Publication all such Parts of our Author's Writings, as have an immediate Tendency to promote the cause of Religion in general, containing Doctrines in which People of all Nations, Ranks, and Conditions are interested without dispute; and such likewise, as, at the same time that they contribute to the same great end, the Increase of primitive Christianity in Life and Doctrines, include an Apology for the religious Principles and Practices of the People to whom he was united in Profession."

||PENINGTON, Isaac, Alderman and Lord Mayor of London in 1642. He headed most of the riots against Charles I., and was one of that king's judges. At the Restoration he was tried and condemned, but respited, and died in the Tower. It has been said by some that he (as well as his son) became a Quaker, but on what authority I do not know. There is a curious portrait of him.

PENINGTON, Isaac (son of the above), of London, afterwards of Woodside, near Amersham, in Bucks, was born about the year 1616.

Books written by him before joining the Society of Friends :—

- A Touchstone or Tryall of Faith, By the Originall from whence it springs, and the Root out of which it grows: held out by way of exposition of the 12 and 13 verses of the 1st Chapter of John's Gospel, and of the six former verses of the 3rd Chapter, which treat expresly about this point: intended not for the disquiet of any, but for the eternall Rest and Peace of all, to whom the Lord shall please to make it usefull thereunto, to which is added, The Spirituall Practise of Christians in the Primitive Times.

London, Printed for Giles Calvert at the Black Spread Eagle, at the West end of Pauls. ... 4to. 1648. 5

- The Great and Sole Troubler of the Times represented in A Mapp of Miserie: or a Glimps of the Heart of Man, which is the Fountain from whence all Misery flows, and the source into which it runs back. Drawn with a dark pencill, by a dark hand, in the midst of Darkness.

London, Printed for J. M. for Giles Calvert, and are to be sold at his Shop at the sign of the black spread-Eagle, at the West end of Pauls. ... 4to. 1649. 4

- A VOICE out of the thick Darkness: containing in it a few words to CHRISTIANS about the late and present posture of Spirituall Affaires among them. Together with a Postscript about darkening the Counsel of God. As also, Certain Scripture-Prophecies concerning some Transactions in the latter Times. By ISAAC PENINGTON (junior), Esq.

London, Printed by John Macock. ... 4to. 1650. 8

- LIGHT or DARKNESSE, Displaying or Hiding itself, as it pleaseth, and from or to whom it pleaseth: Arraigning, Judging, Condemning, both the Shame and Glory of the creature, in all its several breakings forth from, and appearances in, the creature. Held forth to Publike view in a Sermon, a Letter, and severall other Inward openings.

Through ISAAC PENINGTON, (junior), Esq.

London, Printed by John Macock. 4to. 1650

- Severall Fresh Inward Openings, (Concerning severall things) which the DAY will declare of what Nature they are, to which Judgment they Appeal for Justice, being contented either to stand or fall by it: and being likewise ready to kiss that condemnation, which they are likely to meet with in the mean time, from all sorts of men, whom they finde ready to deal hardly with them. Through ISAAC PENINGTON, (junior), Esq.; ... London, Printed for Giles Calvert. 4to. 1650

- An ECHO from the Great Deep: containing Further Inward Openings, concerning divers other things, upon some whereof the Principles and Practises of the Mad Folks do much depend. As also the Life, Hope, Safety and Happiness of the Seed of God, is pointed at; which through many dark, dismall, untrodden paths and passages (as particularly through an unthought of death and captivity) they shall at length be led unto. Through Isaac Penington, (junior) Esq.
London, Printed by John Macock, and are to be sold by Giles Calvert near the West end of Pauls. ... 4to. 1650

- The Fundamental Right, Safety, and Liberty of the PEOPLE (Which is radically in themselves, derivatively in the Parliament, their Substitutes or Representatives) Briefly Asserted. Wherein is discovered the great Good or Harm which may accrue unto the People by Parliaments, according to their different temperature and motions. Together with some proposals conducing towards an equal and just Settlement of the distracted State of this Nation: As likewise a touch at some especial Properties of a Supream good Governor or Governors, By ISAAC PENINGTON (junior) Esq.:
London: Printed by John Macock, and are to be sold by Giles Calvert at the West End of Pauls. ... 4to. 1651.

- The Life of a CHRISTIAN which is a Lamp kindled and lighted from the Love of Christ, and most naturally discovereth its original, by the purity, integrity and fervency of its motion, in love to its fellow-partners in the same life. Briefly displayed in this its peculiar and distinguishing strain of operation. As also some few catechistical Questions concerning the way of Salvation by Christ. Together with a Postscript about Religion. By ISAAC PENINGTON (junior) Esq.
London, Printed by John Macock, for Lodowick Lloyd, and Henry Cripps, and are to be sold at their Shop in Pope's-Head Alley, near Lumbard Street. ... 4to. 1651

- The Scattered Sheep sought after. 1. In a Lamentation, over the general loss of the powerful presence of God in his People, since the dayes of the Apostles; with a particular bewailing of the withering and death of those precious buddings forth of life, which appeared in many at the beginning of the late troubles in these Nations, with the proper way of recovery for such. 2. In some Propositions concerning the only way of Salvation; where is an answer given to that great Objection, that the Light which convinceth of sin, is the Light of a natural conscience; and a brief Account rendered of the ground of men's misunderstanding Scriptures. 3. In exposing to view the Fundamental Principle of the Gospel, upon which the redeemed Spirit is built. 4. And in some Questions and Answers (by way of Catechisme, for the sake of the simple-hearted) directing to that Principle, and fixing in it. By Isaac Penington, the Younger.

- The AXE laid to the Root of the old corrupt-Tree, and the Spirit of deceit struck at in its nature; from whence all the error from the Life, among both Papists and Protestants, hath arisen, and by which it is nourished and fed at this Day. In a Distinction between the Faith which is of man, and the Faith which is of GOD. And in some Assertions concerning true Faith, its nature, rise, &c. Its receiving of Christ, its abiding and growing in his living virtue. With a Warning concerning adding and diminishing from the Scripture in generall, (and the Prophecies of the Revelation in particular.) Discovering what it is, and the great danger of it, with the only way of preservation from it, where is added a short touch about the Use of Means. As also a brief History concerning the state of the Church since the dayes of the Apostles. With an Exhortation to the present Age. By the movings of the Life, in a friend to the Living Truth of the most High God, but an utter enemy to the Spirit of error and blasphemy, wherever it is found, as well in the strictest of the Protestants, as among the grossest of the Papists. Isaac Penington, the Younger.

- A BRIEF ACCOUNT of some Reasons (amongst many that might be given) why those People called Quakers, cannot do some things on the one hand, and forbear doing of some things on the other hand; for which they have suffered, and do still suffer, so much violence from the People, and such sore Persecution from the Teachers and Magistrates of these Nations, whereby it may appear to all who are willing to take any fair consideration of their Cause, that their Sufferings are for Righteousness sake, because of the integrity of their hearts towards God, and void of any just ground of Offence towards Man. This contains a remarkable Portrait of BENJAMIN LAY, one of the earliest advocates of Negro Emancipation, and the first subject of Memoir in the first Annual Monitor; to which some further particulars of him are added.

The Index is divided into two parts; the first comprising an alphabetical arrangement of the numerous pieces in prose and verse; and the second part an alphabetical reference to all the names of the deceased recorded in the first twenty numbers, with which it binds up.

- A SEA of the SEED'S SUFFERINGS, through which Runs A RIVER of Rich Rejoycing.
Thick Darkness girds the hours of Death's black day,
A Mourning Seed weeps over her wry way,
Damosels yet shall their Dowries large possess,
And dance at Marriage, in the Lamb's Wife's Dress.
But whilst the Earth Blood, as a Garment, wears ;
Upon her Face I'll drop my trickling Tears.
In this my Sea, that Soul which wadeth deep,
Shall know my Flood-sluce, and apart shall weep,
Filling his measure under Pharaoh's frown ;
His End shall be to wear a weighty Crown.

This pamphlet is written after the Phonetic style, and the following memorandum I found written on a copy formerly belonging to John Whiting:—

"This was first written [in 1662] at a Place called Pottendorf near Viena in Austria, I being brought from Comora in Hungaria Prisoner to that place and was Printed in Holland about a 1000 copies in the English and German Tongues and spread among the nations after my coming to Rotterdam."

HIPPS, Joseph, of Norwich.

"Joseph Phipps, in the time of his youth, was much addicted to the dissipating pastimes of the age; his abilities were strong and lively, and delighting himself much in the theatres, (to which, when in London, he had free access,) he wrote a Play which fell into the hands of the Duke of Richmond, and which, after his mind had taken a serious turn, cost him some pains to rescue from the press, being offered one hundred pounds for the copy-right.

"He was by trade a shoemaker, but so little of an economist, that sometimes from hunger he was driven to the necessity of eating his paste till he could finish a pair of shoes. He was so far gone in speculative reasoning, as to admit the belief that all things came by chance, but yet sometimes had some serious reflections, and the thought would sometimes strike him, if there exists a Superior Being, what state am I in? While he resided in London, a young man of the name of Hall was his companion in work, whose mind inclined to religion. He one day said to Joseph Phipps, 'What religious profession do you think is the best?' Joseph replied, 'If there is anything in religion, it is among the Quakers.' 'Why,' said William, 'how came you to know anything of them?' He replied, 'I was brought up amongst them.' 'Oh!' said William, 'I wish you would go with me to one of their meetings.' 'Well, one day perhaps I may.' Some weeks after, Joseph appearing very thoughtful, Hall said to Him, 'Where will you go to-day?' 'I was thinking of going to the Quakers' meeting.' 'I am glad of that,' said Hall. They went to the Savoy meeting, and were seated early, and on seeing Benjamin Kidd come in, he said to Joseph Phipps, 'Who is he? Do you know him?' 'Yes,' said Joseph, 'I have seen him in Yorkshire; he is a clever fellow.' In the course of the meeting Benjamin Kidd preached particularly to the state of the two young men, who sat weeping under his testimony. He said, 'I feel that what I speak is received, and I rejoice in it.' They attended several of the succeeding meetings, and were effectually reached, and Joseph Phipps soon after became an honourable and useful member of the Society."

Note.—After writing the above works in vindication of Friends and their principles against F. Bugg, I suppose this Pickworth got so entangled in his net that at last he was unable to extricate himself, as he afterwards turned an open and bitter opposer, as will be seen by the following books of his writing :—

- A Letter directed, "Dear Friends and Brethren, assembled at this our Yearly Meeting, to serve the Lord, his Truth and People," &c. "From my lodging at Joseph Tovey's in Lombard-street, May 29, 1713."
- To the Right Honourable, and Honourable, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in Parliament assembled.—The Humble PETITION of Henry Pickworth, of New Sleaford in the County of Lincoln; in behalf of himself and many others of his long misled Friends, called Quakers; over whom he hath been Elected Overseer and Elder, according to the Discipline practised among them. (From my Lodging at the Golden Key, in Newgate-Market, London, April 9th, 1714.) Broadside. [1714.]
- A CHARGE of Error, Heresy, Incharity, Falshood, Evasion, Inconsistency, Innovation, Imposition, Infidelity, Hypocrisy, Pride, Raillery, Apostacy, Perjury, Idolatry, Villany, Blasphemy, Abomination, Confusion, and Worse than Turkish Tyranny. Most justly exhibited, and offered to be proved against the most noted Leaders, &c., of the People called Quakers, in their Church Capacity, before our Superiours in Church or State, whenever they please to require it. By HENRY PICKWORTH, Nominated and Appointed as Elder and Overseer over their Body, at one of their Assemblies for

Discipline near Lincoln [and since become a Lover of Lies—a bitter enemy to the Truth as this book, stuffed with misrepresentations abundantly evinceth.]

London: Printed for S. Noble, in the Long-Walk, near Christ's-Hospital. 8vo. 1716. 25½

Notwithstanding the misrepresentations contained in this book, it is curious and interesting; and I have been able to glean information concerning persons, places, and occurrences which I have not met with elsewhere.

- A Copy of a Letter, with some addition, as Directed May the 22d, 1730, by one of the Quaker Chosen Overseers and Elders, for the service of their then Yearly Meeting here in London. Containing a short account of their antichristian Doctrines, false Prophecies, and most vile Practices of their He and She Preachers; tending to the Ruin of Church and State in general, as well as of their own never-dying souls in particular; which since some of their most noted Leaders have used their utmost endeavours to prevent the rest of their Brotherhood all sense of, by not suffering it to be read in their said meeting, the author hath found himself conscientiously concerned to publish the same in print, &c.

London: Printed for J. Marshall, at the Bible in Grace-church-street; and sold, &c. 8vo. 1730. 2

- Henry Pickworth's DEFENCE From one BESSE, a professed Quaker's Remarks on a Narrative of his, he some Time since presented to the Right Reverend RICHARD Lord Bishop of Litchfield and Coventry, as publish'd, p. 215, &c., of the late Vindication of his Lordship from their Charge of his having misrepresented them: Which said Narrative Containing an Account of their Friend William Penn and Richard Claridge's (two of their Chief Preachers and Writers) Acknowledgment of divers gross Errors in his Audience, &c.

London: Printed for John Marshall, at the Bible in Grace-church-street. 8vo. 1734. 1½

- A Short ACCOUNT of the People called QUAKERS, shewing their Deceitful Way and Manner of Answering their Opponents Books: With several large CATALOGUES of their Antichristian Doctrines and Seditious Practices, as their Consequents they were taught by the Ranters in Oliver Cromwell's Time, which they had from their Enthusiastical Predecessors in Germany, in that of Martin Luther's as previously taught them; also by Ignatius Loyola, and his Popish Contemporaries, St. Francis, St. Bridget, &c. before them, as here fully proved in these sheets, &c.—By HENRY PICKWORTH.

London: Printed for the Author, and sold by J. Wilford, at the Three Flower-de-Luces, behind the Chapter-House in St. Paul's Church-yard. 8vo. 1735. 6

- A Testimony from New-Garden Monthly Meeting in Pennsylvania, concerning Caleb Pusey. See "Collection of Memorials of Friends of Pennsylvania." ... 8vo. 176

Caleb Pusey came from London to Pennsylvania, with his family in 1682; and from that time till his death, near 45 years, was a very useful and valuable member of Society, both religious and civil. He was long one of the Provincial and Governor's council; and divers times in the Assembly:—He is said to have been a man of good example, both in public and private life; and esteemed a worthy Elder among his Friends the Quakers. By his care, part of the materials, from which this history of Pennsylvania is composed, were preserved;—being a man of good understanding and abilities, in divers respects; and in the relation of a neighbour, husband, parent, master and friend, had particularly an amiable character. He lived in Chester county; and died in the 12th month, 1725, in the 76th year of his age.

Proud's "History of Pennsylvania," vol. 1, page 337; note.

He died the 25th of the 12th month, 1726-7, in the 76th year of his age, and was interred in Friends' burying-ground at London Grove. For further particulars, see Smith's "History of Delaware County," 8vo. 1862. This work also contains a view of his residence at Chester Mills.

"My father was born in Wales (says Jane Reynolds), and was educated for a priest; but on coming to America, he thought he would have a Quaker wife, and fashioned himself accordingly. Coming down from East to West Jersey, he kept a school, and attended Friends' meetings. It was the practice there at that time, for one that behaved soberly and went to meetings, to have liberty to marry among Friends, and thereby to gain a right of membership—a right which I have no doubt was the cause of many unhappy marriages! Thus were my father and mother joined in marriage; but soon after, he found this way too narrow, and turned back again to the Church of England." Further on she says,—“I went several times to Friends' meetings, and heard Jonah Thompson, Daniel Stanton, and Michael Lightfoot, preach; which reached me, and I confessed it was the very truth.”

REYNOLDS, Michael of Farringdon, Berkshire.

Note.—This work commences with—"QUAKERS (A divided People) distinguished, that the Government under our Sovereign Lady Queen ANNE, may have an Impartial Account of them, who by a modest Computation have been reckon'd no less than One Hundred Thousand Men, besides Women and Children, who I presume are no less, if not more in Number. George Whitehead, John Vaughton,

John Filds, William Bingley, John Butcher, Richard Needham (Preachers among the said People) and 15 Persons more, have been reputed Church-Governours, and to represent the Body of the said People, on no better Ground than by Deputation from George Fox, who hath been the occasion of introducing many offensive and Condemnable Singularities: (I do not mean a singularity in Habit, plain language, &c.) And tho' he affirmed to me, That Infallible Judgment was revealed to him in all things; yet he hath been since detected of many notorious Errors, scandalous to the Christian Religion. The Test by which may be known, who among the said People are of Party with these Church Governours, viz. the aforesaid George Whitehead and his Brethren, is an Answer to this Question, Art thou in the Unity? If the Answer be Yea, then he may pass for a Friend, else not; tho' what the Meaning of that Question is, the Church Governours have not explained, so far as I know.

The other Part (whereof I declare my self to be) are termed CHRISTIAN QUAKERS, owning no outward Authority or Representation of Government over them, save that under which, as Subjects of Her present Majesty, they live; believing that the Government of Christ, the Son of God, Prophesied of (Isaiah, 9, 6.) is not represented by any Person or Persons visible to the Carnal Eyes; but by the Power of his Spirit in the Heart, &c."

Note.—The Preface to this book is signed “William Salmon, East end of Pauls, near the Free School;” and at the end of some copies there is an additional leaf without any pagination; it is as follows:—

“Courteous Reader,

“Because of the great Abuse that J. Ives has Publicly Proclaimed in Defamation of W. Salmon, I have inserted, as a Postscript, the very Discourse of S. Newton, and Tho. Plant: that thee mayst see how grossly they have Abused S. Newton on the one side, and the unjust Contumelies cast on the Conversation of the other.

“The Substance of what Discourse happened between Tho. Plant and S. Newton at the Change.

“He asked me whether we owned William Salmon to be a profess Quaker? my answer was, I did not know him; but if he was a Quaker, I did not question but that I should know him, but did believe he was no Quaker: but I said we took it kindly from him, or any other, that would appear to plead our Innocent cause against the Wrongs they did us: his answer was, we had good reason so to do: he also said, that they intended to write against him as a Quaker, but now they would not. And farther, I said at parting, that he might take for granted that he was no Quaker.

“Samuel Newton.”

SAMS, Joseph, of Darlington, was formerly a Teacher at Ackworth School. He many years ago travelled through Europe and the East in search of Antiquities, and especially of ancient MSS. He brought to this country many specimens of the antique, which were collected in his progress through France and other continental countries. He ascended one of the Egyptian Pyramids. His object in travelling in those parts was to reach Palestine, and make diligent enquiry there after the autographa of the Gospels. He carried on many years the business of a bookseller as well as a Dealer in Antiquities, in Darlington, and Great Queen Street, London. He published several catalogues of his curiosities. The following are some of them :—

- A Descriptive Catalogue of a valuable Collection of Books, in various languages, and almost every branch of Science and Literature: including some pretty large importations from several Parts of the Continent, during the Years 1816–1817—21; many fine specimens of early Typography; a choice collection of Polyglots, Bibles, Testaments, and Biblical literature in general; likewise a valuable collection of select, critical, and rare editions of the Classics. Together with a pretty extensive assemblage of scarce and valuable English books, and many modern English works of standard repute, at reduced prices. Interspersed with critical Remarks, and occasional Biographical Notices; and the whole now selling at the prices affixed, by J. Sams, Darlington.

Catalogues, price 6s. 6d., to be had at the place of Sale; and of Lackington and Co., Finsbury Square; and Longman and Co., Paternoster-Row London, (Walker, Printer, Durham.) (Woodcuts by Bewick.) 8vo. 1822.

- Part 2nd, of a Descriptive Catalogue of a valuable Collection of Books, in various languages, and almost every branch of Science and Literature, as well in manuscript as in print. Including some large and recent Importations from France, Italy, & Germany; many fine specimens of early Typography; a choice Collection of scarce Bibles, Early Psalters, Polyglots, &c.; valuable Editiones Principes, and other rare and critical editions of the Classics; with many English Books of considerable rarity. Interspersed with critical remarks, and occasional Biographical notices; and the whole now selling at the prices affixed, By J. Sams, Darlington.

Price 8s. 6d., (only 250 printed) to be had at the Place of sale; and of Harding and Co. (Lackington's), Longman, Hurst and Co., and Baldwin, Cradock, and Co., London; and of De Bures, Librairies du Roi, and M. Renouard, at Paris. (Woodcuts by Bewick.) ... 8vo. 1824.

Reprinted, entitled,—“The MYSTERY of INIQUITY ; in a Brief EXAMINATION of the Practice of the Times,—unto which is added in the POSTSCRIPT, the Injury this Trading in Slaves doth the Commonwealth, humbly offer'd to all of a PUBLICK SPIRIT. The 2nd edition, with additions.

Small 8vo. Printed for the Author, Anno 1780. 7

Note.—Both these editions appear to have been printed in America. In the 1st edition there is a Dedication,—“To my esteemed Friend, Matthew Hughes, Esq., one of the Representatives for the County of Bucks.”—dated, Philadelphia, the 1st of the 11th Month, 1728-9.

But in the 2nd edition it is left out, and an address prefixed, “To the Second-Day's Morning Meeting, and to the Yearly Meeting of Friends assembled in London, &c.”

Since writing the foregoing I find both editions were printed by Benjamin Franklin. See a copy of an original letter of Benjamin Franklin's, inserted in The Friend, Vol. 17, No. 195, page 41.

“Ralph Sandiford also laboured assiduously. He published a work against Slavery, for which the chief magistrate of the province threatened him with a severe penalty if he permitted it to be circulated ; but disregarding all consequences, he distributed the work gratuitously, wherever he thought it would be read. Notwithstanding all opposition, he persevered in his Anti-slavery labours, and laid the foundation for the final triumph of humanity.”—Anti-Slavery Advocate, No. 7, April, 1853.

His body was buried in a Field, on his own Farm, near the house where his terrestrial existence was peacefully terminated. The Executors of his will had the grave enclosed with a balustrade fence, and caused a stone to be placed at the head of it, thus inscribed,

“IN MEMORY OF
RALPH SANDIFORD,
SON OF JOHN SANDIFORD,
OF LIVERPOOL, HE BORE
A TESTIMONY AGAINST THE NEGRO TRADE & DYED
YE 28TH OF YE 3RD MONTH,
1733, AGED 40 YEARS.”

Roberts Vaux says he copied the above epitaph from the stone, which was found broken in two pieces, laying near a fence, not far from the place where it was originally erected.

Memoir, page 151, it is stated that "This volume (Poetical Tales) obtained but a limited circulation; for, soon after it had issued from the press, the conviction that it had been an unhallowed and unprofitable exercise of her understanding was so impressed upon her spirit, that, although the sacrifice was considerable, she caused all the unsold copies to be destroyed."—Whether they were actually destroyed is doubtful, as I have discovered some copies with this false title, "Pathetic Tales, founded on facts. By Mrs. Smith. London: Published by James Goodwin, Ave-Maria-lane, Paternoster-row. 1813. W. Lewis, Printer, St. John's square." Perhaps they were sold for waste paper, the original title only destroyed, a new one printed, and the book passed off as the work of another individual.

SCOTT, Job, of Providence, Rhode Island, North America.

- The BAPTISM OF CHRIST, a GOSPEL ORDINANCE; being altogether INWARD and SPIRITUAL: not, like John's, into Water; but, according to the real Nature of the Gospel, into the very name, life and power, of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Shewing that the Apostle's Use of Water Baptism was by no means as an Ordinance of Christ, but as the Baptism of John; and that all who are baptized into Christ, have put on Christ, not only professionally, but substantially—that is, have put him on as the whole Armour of Light, and walk in him in newness of Life.

Note.—Prefixed to this edition is the following Advertisement, viz.
 "In publishing this edition, it may be observed, that numerous corrections are made in the punctuation, and such alterations as were needful to avoid very long sentences ; but nothing is done that affects the sense further than it is hoped renders it more perspicuous. The English and American editions have been compared ; the slight improvements of the former adopted, and what was therein omitted of the latter, is now inserted.
 The additions are derived from authentic sources ; and one of the most considerable from a manuscript in the author's own hand writing ; as noted in the place where it is inserted.
 The additional account of his last illness is given by one of his attendants, through the whole of that painful and yet joyous scene ;
 wherein the power of Divine Grace, often and eminently triumphed over the pains and anguish of a deeply afflicted tabernacle."

and the closing account of his Life, having often appeared to the Editor to be fraught with deep instruction and counsel, she has long wished a selection could be made as a separate pamphlet, which might probably be read by some who have not perused the Journal. It is, therefore, submitted to the attention of such, in an especial manner, with the humble hope that it may be productive of good. And if it should prove the means, under the Divine Blessing, of awakening the mind of even one young person, either in religious profession with the Author or whatever his age or outward denomination may be, the effort made in transcribing it will not have been in vain."

SHACKLETON, Richard, was a Native of Yorkshire, where he married, in the year 1683, Sarah Briggs. Of their six children Abraham was the youngest.

SHACKLETON, Abraham, of Ballitore, in the County of Kildare, Ireland, was the Son of the above RICHARD SHACKLETON, and was born in the year 1696.

— A TESTIMONY concerning that worthy ELDER, Abraham Shackleton,—Given forth by the Monthly Meeting of Carlow, and approved by the Quarterly-Meeting for Leinster Province held at Mountmelick, the 26th of the 2nd Month, 1774.

Dublin: Printed by Robert Jackson, at the Globe, in Meath-street. ... 8vo. 1774. 1

"I met with my good friend, Abraham Shackleton, who travelled with me most of the time I was in that nation (Ireland). Of him I think it may be said, as was of Nathaniel: "Behold an Israelite indeed, in whom there is no guile!" He was a great comfort and help to me; and though he did not appear publicly as a minister, yet he would drop tender advice at times, in families, in a very affecting manner. His whole conversation, looks, and deportment, were so leavened and tempered with the good, that I looked upon him as a preacher of righteousness wherever he came."—John Griffith's Journal, 1760. p. 274.

He died at Ballitore, the 24th of 6th mo. 1771. Aged 74 years, and was interred in Friends' Burying-ground there.

- The true and everlasting RULE from God discovered, and that which proveth all things, published from the Spirit of Truth, to the which Rule the scriptures also beareth testimony; that all the simple and honest-hearted may see what Rule they are to walk by to come to perfect peace and rest with God for evermore. With an addition (to the former) wherein is also shewed, what that is in man which is not to be his Guide nor Rule. Also, a Testimony of the True Prophet who was to come and is come, and there is not another; his work witnessed, and truth declared from a feeling sense and experience according to Scripture. Wherein is also shewed, that the Prophets of God, and Ministers of Christ did preach the light; and so those who preach the Light now, do therein preach the same doctrine as the Prophets, Christ and his Apostles did. With an Invitation from the Spirit of Christ. By a Servant of the Lord, & a Sufferer for his Truth in the House of Correction at Winchester in Hampshire, called Humphrey Smith.

"On the First-day I went to RICHARD SMITH's house [at Chester] to the Meeting, and sat me down, and staid an hour or more ere the meeting was fully gathered ; then I stood up and went nearer to Friends, for it was in a very large room, and the Lord in mercy was pleased to give us a precious meeting, and there was great brokenness of heart, with many tears ; at the latter end of this meeting, RICHARD SMITH spoke very tenderly, and desired that they who were unfaithful might amend their ways, and for the time to come do better ; yet, poor man, notwithstanding this exhortation, he himself, after some time, did worse than he had done before, for he wrote against Friends and the blessed Truth ; however he, with some others who opposed the truth, were soon after taken away.— See JOHN GRATTON'S JOURNAL, 2nd edition, page 119.

Note.—Many interesting anecdotes and occurrences are related by this Friend, in the journal, amongst them the following:—

"On our way, passed in sight of Drayton, the village where GEORGE FOX was born. At SAMUEL LYTHALL's, where we lodged, I saw the staff, it is said, George Fox used to travel with—a large cane stick about four feet in length, and ivory head—looked as tho' it might have belonged to a country squire, and probably had been Judge Fell's. The Meeting here was small; after which, rode to Polesworth, where I saw the widow GOODHALL, near 90 years of age; all her faculties appeared clear and lively. She told us her father, LYTHALL, was a prisoner in Warwick jail with WILLIAM DEWSBURY; they also showed me William's cane with the initials of his name on it, and date, 1674. There also lives in this village, a son to one of George Fox's brothers, and father to the two Fox's who went to Philadelphia, and got a sum of money from Friends on account of their claim to their great-uncle's estate."

He also mentions being at Arundel Meeting and visiting the Castle there where Mary Penington's first Husband Sir William Springett, died, likewise meeting with a Friend 94 years of age, who remembered Wm. Penn being at meeting there.

"Rode to Henry Swan's and lodged. This is a noted place for antiquity—the family had been in possession of the farm as far back as could be traced. I saw here a small arm chair, marked 1014; and it was believed it might have belonged to the same family now 776 years.”

- For the KING and both Houses of Parliament, being a brief, plain, and true Relation of some of the late sad Sufferings of the People of God, called QUAKERS, For Worshipping God, &c.
Large broadside. [About 1662.] 1

- This is a short RELATION of some of the CRUEL SUFFERINGS (for the Truths sake) of KATHARINE EVANS and SARAH CHEVERS, In the Inquisition in the ISLE of MALTA, Who have suffered there above 3 years, by the Pope's Authority, there to be detained till they dye. Which Relation of their Sufferings is come from their own hands and mouths, as doth appear by the following Treatise. These two Daughters of Abraham were passing to Alexandria, and to Cilicia; and thus may that part of Christendom see their fruits, together with the Pope's, and of what Birth they are; and that those that are called Christians are worse than Heathens: for they falling into their hands, should have been refreshed by them with necessary things; but the provision which the Inhabitants and Knights of Malta, (called Christians) provided for them, is the Inquisition. Now it was not so when Paul suffered shipwrack there among the barbarous people; which is a manifest token they are not in the love of God, whose fruits shew they are not in the true spirit.

And this is to all fellow-brethren that are partakers with them in the Power of God and have a feeling and fellowship with them in their sufferings, that they might see and know how it is with them, and what unkindness they find abroad among them that profess themselves Christians.

The work is thus spoken of in The Monthly Review, dated September, 1817 :—

“ It often happens in the case of new publications, as in other matters, that a plain and unassuming outside is found to contain the MOST INSTRUCTIVE AND VALUABLE INTERIOR. Thus we have now before us, in a small volume, introduced with no professions and few ornaments, A CLEAR, CIRCUMSTANTIAL AND INTERESTING account of the state of Society, on the other side of the Atlantic. The writer, one of the people called Quakers, who was settled in mercantile business in Sheffield, had occasion to make two voyages to America, for the adjustment of his accounts with correspondents on that side of the water ; and in his second expedition, he kept a journal of his peregrinations, without any intention of giving it to the public ; which he was not persuaded to do, until assured by his friends, that a knowledge of many of the remarks and occurrences recorded by him, might prove beneficial to juvenile readers.

“ Fortunately, the journey thus circumstantially minuted, took place in 1804, 1805 and 1806, before the Orders in Council and the War that ensued, had rekindled ancient animosities, and spread discouragement and distress over the United States. We shall lay before our Readers a number of extracts from the most remarkable passages, accompanying them with few comments, because they are themselves so clear and explicit, as to stand in very little need of explanation.”

THORP, John, of Manchester, was born at Wilmalow, in Cheshire, in the year 1742. He was the posthumous Son of JONATHAN THORP, a Farmer, and appears to have been educated in the principles of the established Church of England. After attending a Friends' meeting at Morley, he found publicly advocated, as the principles of a religious community, doctrines consonant with the convictions which had operated on his own mind, and in the year 1762, in the 20th year of his age, he was received into membership by Morley Monthly Meeting. In the following year he removed to London, where he continued to reside about 4 years. In the latter part of the year 1767, he removed to Manchester, where he continued to reside to the end of his days. In the year 1769, he married Martha, daughter of John Goodier, of Morley Meeting; she was removed from him by death after the short union of 4 years, and about the year 1773, he was called to the work of the Ministry. In the year 1775, he was married a second time to Martha, daughter of Thomas Cash, of Morley, and sister to Thomas Cash, of the same place, of whom there is an account in the 10th part of "Piety Promoted," and a list of his writings in the 1st vol. of this Catalogue, at page 382.

*TILLOTSON, Nathan, of London. A Minister.

— AN EPISTLE OF LOVE and CAUTION, inscribed to the Inhabitants of the Parish of Kettlewell, and Places adjacent. By NATHAN TILLOTSON.

8vo. London: Printed for the Author, in the Year, 1747. 2½

The following announcement of N. T.'s Marriage appears in The Gent.'s Magazine, viz.:—

"Mr. N. Tillotson, an eminent Preacher among the People called Quakers, and a relative of Archbishop Tillotson, to Miss ———, with £7000."

This was copied into The Morning Advertiser, of Monday, July 7th, 1862.

Only two years after writing the above Epistle of Love and Caution, I find that a Testimony of disownment was issued against Nathan Tillotson, by Devonshire House Monthly Meeting, the 3rd of 3rd month, 1749, which states that he was "addicted to Drinking, Gambling, and afterwards leaving his family and creditors."

†TOLDERVY, John, of London. Respecting this Friend, George Fox in his Journal says, "I also rejoiced to find truth prosper in the City (London), and all things well amongst Friends. Only there was one JOHN TOLDERVY, who had been convinced of Truth and run out from it, and the envious Priests took occasion from thence to write a wicked book against Friends, which they stuffed with many lies, to render Truth and Friends odious." They intituled their book, — "The Foot out of the Snare; or, a Restoration of the Inhabitants of Zion into their Place, after their bewildered and lost Estate by the operation of a violent Power, and authority, wrought in the Author by the Prince of Darkness, under an Appearance of the brightest Light. Being a brief Declaration of his entrance into that Sect, called (by the Name of) QUAKERS. With a short Discourse relating what Judgment he was learned in, by the Ministry of those People. Together with the Revelation of a Spirit in himself. Also, what Desperate Delusions he was led into by yielding a subjection to the Teachings of a Seducing Spirit in him under a shadow of the true Light; and how this Body of Deceit came to be destroyed. With the manner of his separation from them. By me John Toldervy, then Servant to Col. Webb."

London, Printed by J. C. for Tho. Brewster, at the Three Bibles, neer the West-end of Pauls. ... 4to. 1656. 7½

"But this poor man came to see his folly and returned, condemned his backsliding, answered the Priests' book, and manifested all their lies and wickedness."

- 51.—Life of Jane Hoskens; being an interesting and instructive Narrative of a lowly individual who was led and supported by the power of Truth, in a very remarkable manner. She was convinced of the Principles of Truth as professed by

Friends, received a gift in the Ministry ; and, in obedience to Divine requirement, laboured much to the comfort and edification of Friends, both in America and Great Britain. ... 36 page

- 52.—Selections from the Journal of Thomas Story, which contains an account of very remarkable occurrences, principally relating to the early history of his Life ; his preservation from evil while in exposed situations ; his serious and instructive reflections on religious subjects ; and his conviction of the Doctrines and Principles of Truth as professed by our Early Friends. And being a man of learning and great natural abilities, by a dependance upon that Divine Wisdom and Power from which the Scriptures proceeded, he was led to see and wonderfully enabled to maintain the Doctrines of the Society, even before he was joined in profession with Friends ; as may be seen in this Tract. ... 36 pages
- 55.—Selections from the Memoirs of Richard Claridge, who was educated at the University of Oxford, and inducted into the situation of Rector ; this, after retaining it about eighteen years, he resigned from a sense of duty. His reasons for so doing are plainly stated ; likewise the gradual manner in which he became convinced of the principles of the Society of Friends, and of his joining with them. Also, are added, his reasons for not paying Steeple-house Rates, Tithes, &c. 12mo. 1838. 1
- 56.—An Epistle to Friends. By Thomas Ellwood. 12mo. No date. 1
- 57.—An Account of the Religious Experience, &c., of Susannah Lightfoot. A good practical lesson ; shewing the benefit of trusting to the Arm of Divine Power, in the day of close trial and of great outward poverty. ... 24 pages
- 58.—Extracts from Alexander Arscott's Considerations on the present state of the Christian Religion. ... 24 pages
- 59.—Memoir of Thomas Railton : containing an account of his conviction, whilst a school boy, aged about fourteen years. This youth suffered much from his instructor, as well as parents, for refusing to use vain complements, take off his hat, or bow the knee to men : and for declining the habitual use of formal prayer. Neither threatenings nor beatings could move him from maintaining a holy resolution to obey what the Lord required of him. T. R. became an edifying Minister of the Gospel, and travelled much in the service of Truth. This Tract also contains an Account of George Newland, who, about the age of twelve years, was, by the Lord, concerned to give Testimony to the Truth ; in which he was faithful, and travelled in the service of the Gift the Lord had bestowed upon him. He was not forward or rash

TUKE, William, was born at York in 1732.

It is an interesting fact that the Retreat, the erection of which he proposed in 1792, was the means of effecting a complete revolution in the treatment of the insane. The success of the Institution led to inquiry, and this inquiry was the means of adding to the literature of the Society of Friends, a work by William Tuke's Grandson, SAMUEL TUKE, (see page 829,) which largely contributed to the result he had in view—the amelioration of the condition of those afflicted with mental disease.

Dr. Conolly observes in his work, "The Treatment of the Insane without Mechanical Réstraint," 1856 :—

"About the time when Pinel's great work of reformation was effected in France, and many patients were liberated after being chained for many years, a similar work was providentially commenced in a provincial city in England. * * Of this admirable asylum the chief promoter was the late WILLIAM TUKE, of York. * * * And for readers desirous to know the views which ought to prevail in all lunatic asylums, I could not, even now, refer to any work in which they are more perspicuously explained than in Samuel Tuke's account of the Retreat. In the valuable works of Pinel, and his learned successor, Esquirol, we find graphic descriptions of all varieties of mental disorders, and lucid views of treatment; but in none are the details of management, economic, medical and moral, of an institution for the insane, to be found more convincingly set forth than in the works of SAMUEL TUKE. * * * All of us who have followed in the path of WILLIAM and SAMUEL TUKE, at however great a distance, must ever gratefully acknowledge the extent of our debt to them. It is true that neither they nor Pinel ventured wholly to abolish mechanical coercion: this was left for Charlesworth to attempt, and for Gardiner Hill to carry out at Lincoln, and for Hanwell to confirm on the largest scale; but when the emulation produced by the changes made in asylums during the last twenty years has subsided, every historian of these establishments must point to Pinel and to Tuke as the men who led the way for the more complete system of non-restraint."

WAGSTAFFE, John, of Norwich, was born at Overton, in Hampshire, and at an early age was bound apprentice to a baker in London, where, during those leisure hours which even the busiest may make, he laid the foundation of that scientific respectability which he afterwards attained. At the end of his apprenticeship he settled in Norwich; and, amidst the cares of a family, and a praiseworthy attention to business, by which he accumulated an ample provision for the comfort of his declining years, he acquired an extensive knowledge of Entomology, Botany, and other departments of Natural History. On his retirement to Bawburgh, he became distinguished for his practice of gardening and agriculture. He was among the first promoters of the setting of wheat, which now so generally and beneficially prevails.—Athenæum, vol. 5.

Another account of him says:—"He was a close observer of the works of nature, and possessed, with considerable taste, a patient and minute habit of remark, which was frequently exercised in elucidating the writings of others on Natural History, Agriculture, &c. Some of his notes are appended to Kent's Norfolk, and we have reason to believe that they are much more widely scattered in many other works than is generally known. He exercised his talents and taste for poetry in a work called, 'Stonehenge,' and in 'An Elegy in a Friends' Burial-ground,' in the manner of Gray; he was also the author of many fugitive pieces."—"History of Norfolk," Vol. 2, page 1267.

He died at Witney, the 24th of 11th month, 1815, aged 84 years.
The following account of him is from The Gentleman's Magazine, Supplement to vol. 85 :—

"He had passed the major part of his long life in habits of great seclusion, making books his principal companions, and the open face of Nature his favourite spectacle. He possessed an uncommonly well-stored and energetic mind, and was remarkable for a lofty sense of that true honour which finds its sole origin and regulator in upright moral principles. He was constantly a benevolent friend to the numerous poor in his neighbourhood, although generally accounted parsimonious in his disposition, from rejecting some indulgences which his fortune would have rendered appropriate. Great regularity and uniform temperance were means of preserving his health and mental faculties, amidst the snows of age, until a short period before his death. Religion was cherished in his breast, as the noblest attainment of man, the emanation of paternal Deity, benign, as powerful, in its influences : it introduced him to no gloomy speculations, no vain and unprofitable babblings of party zeal, or superficial fervours of imagination ; but it taught him to regard an untainted conscience with watchful veneration, to contemplate the evils of mutability without dismay, and to look forward with elevated confidence to the 'eternal spring' of a renovated existence. He sunk into the last sleep of mortality with the composure he always ardently desired, and which was consonant with his firm persuasion that in reference to his future allotment by the Author of his being, he might say : 'When I awake, I shall be satisfied with thy likeness.' His remains were deposited on the 29th in the burial-ground of the Society, at Witney, in a brick grave which had been prepared for them by his own orders several years ago. Among his many charitable bequests, he has left £500 to the Oxford Infirmary, 1000 guineas to 1000 poor persons in the parish, and £50 to be distributed in bread and provisions on New Year's Day for ever."

MINUTE of the MORNING MEETING respecting this pamphlet.
"1675. 10 mo. 20.—E. W.'s "New-England's Present Sufferings" to be made waste paper of, and B. Clark to print no books for the future but what are first read and approved of in the Morning Meeting."

HEELER, Daniel, was originally a Member of the Church of England (so called), and spent some of the early years of his life at sea. During the visit of the Allied Sovereigns to this country in the year 1815 he was resident at Sheffield, where he carried on the business of a Porter Merchant, having previously become convinced of the principles of Friends. The Emperor Alexander of Russia having expressed considerable admiration of the Friends he saw, Daniel Wheeler felt it his duty to go to Petersburg, and removed thither with his family. There he was engaged in draining land, and making farming improvements, very much to the satisfaction of the Emperor. Daniel Wheeler afterwards travelled in the Ministry in New South Wales, and the Islands of the South Pacific Ocean.

— CAIN'S GENERATION Discovered, in ANSWER to an epistle directed to the Reader, in a Book Titled, A Short and Full vindication of that sweet and comfortable Ordinance, of Singing Psalms. Put forth by one Jonathan Clapham, who calls himself M.A. and Minister of Christ in Wramplingham in Norfolk; Wherein he is found in envy, in Cain's way, in his false accusations and fierce despising and envious railing against the innocent, which is answered by me whose name in the flesh is George Whitehead, who am one of them who are called Quakers, who are despised and hated of that Generation of Priests who go in Cain's way and Balaam's way: and wee having answered before six of his chief arguments for singing Psalms, which are answered in that Book called, David's Enemies discovered, which this Priest Clapham durst not answer nor reply to; therefore he makes excuse to the Reader, that we left out some of his arguments, for the which cause I am moved further to answer to some of his arguments concerning singing, that all that have eyes to see, may see his folly laid open, and his torment increased: also several Quæries to them that profess the scriptures to be their rule to walk by, and some to them that profess the scripture to be their Rule, and the Saints Rule to try the Spirits by.

AN EPILOGUE ON GEORGE WHITEHEAD.

Within this Place have been
 A Servant of the Lord,
 Who never Persecution fear'd,
 But boldly preach'd his Word.
 His Name exceeds the best Perfumes,
 More sweet, more fragrant, far,
 Than Cinnamon, or Arabia Gum,
 Or Egypt's Spices are.
 Altho' no Stone, or Pomposus Tomb,
 Be to his Body given,
 His Soul, no doubt, is welcom'd Home,
 By Jesus Christ in Heaven.
 And may We, that are left behind,
 By His, our Actions steer,
 That We, like him, may comfort find,
 And like Him persevere."

WHITEHEAD, Ann (his wife), and others.

HITEHEAD, John, a physician, and preacher among the Wesleyan Methodists. He was born of humble but respectable provincial parents, who gave him a classical education; and early in life he was connected with the Wesleys, but left them, and set up as linendraper in Bristol. Having failed in business, he became a Quaker, and was placed in a school by that body at Wandsworth. He subsequently attended a son of Mr. Barclay, the brewer, to Leyden, where he studied medicine with such success and perseverance as induced Dr. Lettsom to get him nominated physician to the London Dispensary. He eventually, however, quitted the Quakers and returned to the Methodists, among whom he became at once a successful physician and favourite preacher, so much so, that he attended Mr. Wesley in his last illness, and preached his funeral sermon. He afterwards published "The Life of the Rev. John Wesley, M.A., collected from his papers and printed works, and published at the request of his Executors." Of this work, which is avowedly a "History of Methodism," the first volume appeared in 1793, and the second in 1796. The publication of this life, which is written with great candour, caused such party dispute among the Wesley connexion, as the Conference had intended to publish a life of their own. Dr. Whitehead was, in consequence, for some time excluded from their pulpits, but a reconciliation ultimately took place. He died March 7th, 1804.—Gent. Mag.

London, Printed in the Year, 1688.

He died the 20th of the 1st month, 1686, in the 68th year of his age.

IFFEN, Jeremiah Holmes, was born in the year 1792 at Woburn, Bedfordshire. His parents were members of the Society of Friends, to whose religious sentiments he adhered from conviction. He was, at an early age, placed at a school at Hitchin; but on the death of his father, his mother being left with a family, he was removed for economy, to Ackworth School, near Pontefract. His advantages there were limited to the elements of an English education. At the age of fourteen he engaged himself as assistant in a Friends' academy at Epping. At the age of nineteen he opened an Academy at Woburn. In 1812 he united with two of his friends in publishing Poems by three friends; and in 1819 he put forth his "Aonian Hours," shortly followed by "Julia Alpinula" and a translation of the fourth canto of the "Jerusalem Delivered of Tasso," as a specimen of a new translation of the whole. Towards the close of 1820, the Duke of Bedford offered him the post of Librarian at Woburn Abbey, which he accepted and went to reside there in 1821. Here he completed his translation of Tasso and of the Works of the Spanish poet Garcilasso de la Vega. The first edition of his Tasso in 2 volumes quarto was destroyed by a fire at the printer's when just on the eve of publication; and here he began his "Historical Memoirs of the House of Russell," published in 1833, after seven years of research and labour.

He married in 1828, removing his residence to the village of Froxfield, where he passed the remainder of his days, retaining his appointment of Librarian to the Duke of Bedford. His death in the year 1836 was sudden. He was interred in the Friends' burial-ground at a hamlet vulgarly called Hogstyend, now Woburn-Sands. In the same ground lies also the Editor of the "Letters of Lady Rachel Russell, widow of the Patriot."

ODVILLE, William, an eminent physician, was born at Cockermouth, in 1752. After having received a good classical education, he became apprentice to an apothecary, and subsequently studied at Edinburgh, where, in 1775, he took the degree of M.D. Having passed some time on the continent, he returned, and settled as a practitioner at his native place, where he remained five or six years. He then removed to London, and was appointed one of the physicians to the Middlesex Dispensary. In 1791, he was chosen physician to the Small-Pox Hospital at St. Pancras; and he continued in connexion with that institution till his death.—Rees's Cyclop.

Note.—Prefixed to this edition is the following "Advertisement to the Reader," viz. :—"The Manuscript Journal of our late Friend JOHN WOOLMAN, was ended in England; where he also finished all his labours. It appears, by a letter which he sent, in his last illness, to a Friend in London, that he did not intend the whole should be printed, and that he desired the said Friend to revise what he had written in this Nation, and leave out such parts as he should think proper. It was, notwithstanding, sent entire, without any alteration to America; where it was soon after printed, together with several Tracts which had been published in his lifetime. But, as some passages in the Journal contain observations which appear to have been intended as private memorandums only, and others relate to circumstances which happened in his native country, not expedient to be preserved on record in this nation, it is apprehended that the following ABRIDGEMENT of it will be acceptable to Friends, and may be of general service; and, as many weighty arguments and pertinent advices, relative to Slavery and the oppression of the Negroes in the Plantations, are contained in the Journal, it was therefore apprehended that two small Tracts, on that subject might be omitted in this Abridgement."

Note.—To the Reader.—To this edition.

"Divers errors and inaccuracies having occurred in former editions of the Journal and Works of John Woolman, care has been taken in this to have them corrected. The whole of the Journal and most of the essays have been carefully collated with the original MSS., the omissions supplied, and the mistakes rectified. In a very few cases, some verbal changes of words and phrases have been made, and the paragraphs differently divided, without altering the meaning—but the principal object has been to publish a correct copy of the valuable writings and views of this deeply exercised, enlightened, and devoted Servant of God."

— Letters of John Woolman. In Comly's Miscellany, Vol. 1.

He died at the house of Thomas Priestman, in York, the 7th of the 10th month, 1772, aged nearly 52, a Minister upwards of 30 years; and was interred in Friends' burial-ground in that city on the 9th of the same month. He was not easy that Friends should bear the charges of his funeral, and requested William Tuke to write down as follows, which he signed :—

"An ash coffin made plain without any manner of superfluities, the corpse to be wrapped in cheap flannel, the expense of which I leave my wearing clothes to defray, as also the digging of the grave; and I desire that William Tuke may take my clothes after my decease, and apply them accordingly.

"JOHN WOOLMAN.

"York, 29th of 9th month, 1772."

It seems, however, that the carpenter preferred money to having his clothes, so that they were sent to America. His shoes were given to the grave-digger.

*YOUNG, Thomas, M.D., of London. He was son of THOMAS and SARAH YOUNG, of Milverton, in Somersetshire, and was born the 13th of 6th Month, 1773, and received his education at the School of THOMAS THOMPSON, at Compton in Dorsetshire. In an autobiography of his early life he says, "In the 3rd month, 1782, when nearly 9 years of age, I was sent to the school of Thomas Thompson at Compton, where I continued for nearly four years, having only left for six months during the year 1784. Thomas Thompson was a man of liberal and enlarged mind, who possessed a tolerable collection of English and classical books, which his pupils were allowed to make use of. It was his custom likewise to allow them a certain discretion in the employment of their time.....The usher of the School was a very ingenious young man of the name of Josiah Jeffrey, who was in the habit of lending me books, and amongst them, Benjamin Martin's Lectures on Natural Philosophy, and Ryland's Introduction to the Newtonian Philosophy. I was particularly delighted with the optical part of Martin's book, which contains many detailed rules for the practical construction of optical instruments ; I also learnt the first elements of algebra from Vyse and Ward. Josiah Jeffrey was a good mechanic, and it was from him, that I acquired my fondness for turning and for making telescopes. He also made an electrical machine, which I very frequently used ; from him I also learnt the first principles of drawing, and copied under his directions several specimens from the copper-plates of a book entitled 'The Principles of Design.' He was also a bookbinder, an occupation in which I assisted him. After he left the School, I succeeded to some of his employments and perquisites, and I used to sell paper, copper-plates, copy books and colours to my school-fellows, by which means I contrived to collect in 1786, as much as 5s., which added to 10s. 6d. given me by my parents, enabled me to buy some Greek and Latin books, which were sold to me by Thomas Thompson, at extremely low prices, and likewise Montanus's Hebrew Bible, for which I gave 5s. ; for I was at that time enamoured of Oriental literature, and I had already read through Buxtorf's Compendium, and Taylor's Tract at the end of his Concordance, and before I left Compton School, I had succeeded in getting through six chapters of the Hebrew Bible.....I had also imbibed a wish to study botany, from a conversation with Morris Birkbeck, and in order to enable me to examine the minute organs of plants, I constructed a microscope from the description of Benjamin Martin.....I was in the habit of rising an hour sooner than my school-fellows in summer, and of going to bed an hour or two later in winter, for the purpose of mastering my lessons for the day ; my school business was thus soon finished..... One of my schoolfellows of the name of Fox had made himself master of the Italian language ; with his assistance and that of Venoni's Italian Grammar, I was enabled to read Italian, and I had before acquired some slight knowledge of French. I read through Penn's Reflections and Maxims."— See Life of Thomas Young, by George Peacock, D.D., pages 5 and 6.

At the age of fourteen, when Thomas Young left Compton School he was more or less versed in Greek, Latin, French, Italian, Hebrew, Persic and Arabic ; and in forming the characters of those Languages, he had already acquired much of the beauty and accuracy of penmanship, which was afterwards so remarkable in his copies of Greek compositions, as well as of those subjects connected with the literature of ancient Egypt, with which he was so much identified in after life and being the first who decyphered the Hieroglyphics on the Rosetta Stone, &c.
